

Help Someone who has Sciatic Leg Pain Today!

Your lower back endures more stress than your upper back due to the amount of weight it has to support. As a result, misalignment of the bones of your lower back can occur causing the nerves that lead to your hip, leg and foot to be pinched. This condition is called sciatica. It produces a sharp, burning sensation down your leg. You may experience back and thigh discomfort for weeks or even months before the onset of sciatica.

Chiropractic treatment removes the pressure from the pinched nerve by realigning the bones of your spine through gentle Chiropractic adjustments.
